Installation-What to Expect

Having your garage door or opener installed is easy and inexpensive.

Here's what to expect:

1. Call or stop in to your local Curtis Lumber to make sure they offer garage door installation services.
2. Speak with a salesperson to learn more about our garage doors and get help in making a selection. You can receive a rough price quote right on the spot, once you've decided on the perfect door. Don't forget to talk about the special options available to make the garage door your own.
3. A Curtis Installation specialist will call you to set up an appointment to come to your home and inspect the jobsite. If you would like any changes or to make any additions, you can speak to the specialist at that time.
4. Within a few days, you will receive a formal price quote in the mail and your salesperson will call you to address any questions or concerns you may have.
5. When you decide to place your order, you will need to stop by the store to fill out a Capital Improvement form for sales tax purposes. Because the installation qualifies as a capital improvement, the installation will be exempt from sales tax. At this time a full deposit must also be placed on the order. Our installers do NOT collect any money.
6. Curtis will then order your door. Once the door arrives, you will be contacted to set up installation.
7. The Curtis Installation specialist will arrive at your home and will take down your old door, install your new door, and install new weatherstripping.
8. Once installation is to your satisfaction, you will be asked to sign a job completion form. Enjoy your new garage door!

We may send you a survey after installation, please take the time to complete it so we can understand how well we did at meeting your needs and expectations. Your feedback is greatly appreciated.
